THURSDAY, AUGUST 5, 1869.

From the St. Joseph (Mo.) Gazette, July 25.

A PLEASANT ROMANCE—A STEAM BOAT EXCURSION AND A DOUBLE WEDDING.

Not a great while ago a very pleasant steamboat excursion took place on the Missouri river, in which not only a large number of fashionable ladies and gentlemen of the various cities below took part, but when the gallant steamer rounded at our wharf, a goodly company of the elite of our own city stepped on board to enjoy the luxury of a trip on a magnificent boat.—Nor were the excurtionists composed entirely of the young and gay. Gray-haired sires and grave matrons graced the occasion with their presence, and looked approvingly upon the merry and innocent festivities in which they themselves took so much pleasure when life was in its Juce.

Among the passengers on the boat was a good looking youth of rather a romantic turn of mind, who, Madam Rumor said, had for some time been casting his eyes upon the beautiful ladies of St. Joseph to select a suitable companion for life. Among the many charming damsels who strolled upon the hurricane deck by moonlight, or glided in the mazes of the dance in the cabin, he had, of course, an ample field to select from, provided always that the lady was willing. At length the matrimonially inclined youth fell into the company of a fair, young lady, whose charming manners and beautiful sentiments completely led captive the inspirations of his soul, and satisfied him that he had met the bright vision fondly conjured up in many a day dream. The courtship was warm and brief. He proposed and was accepted; and soon the fact was announced among the passengers that a wedding was to take place, and the active preparations of the gallant captain, who fully appreciated the situation, gave credence to the rumor.

The shadows of evening gathered around—the moon, in its full, came sailing up in the quiet sky, casting a soft, mellow light upon the waters, and throwing gigantic shadows of the lofty trees on the eastern branches of the stream upon its quiet surface. The boat approached a quiet and secluded spot on the western shore where a few small trees cast their shadows over the rippling waters of a small stream that straggled among some rocks down the bank, gleaming like a ray of silver in the moonlight. A shrill whistle broke the solemn stillness of the scene—the pilot's signal bell rang—the boat rounded to—the "staging" were run out, and in a few moments time the entire party stood upon the shore.

There was a minister among the party.—He came forward and made the announcement that he was about to solemnize a marriage ceremony. A young couple came forward. Hand in hand they were placed upon the opposite bank of the little stream, not more than a foot wide, whose rippling waters running between them sang a sweet song to fall melodiously upon their ears. The ceremony was brief—the two were made one—congratulations were showered upon them in profusion—and the warning notes of the bell gave notice to all to get "on board."

Just at this moment there was a sway among the crowd, and a tall and handsome countryman, elbowing his way to the front, and drawing himself up to his full height, and folding his arms across his breast, announced that if any young lady present desired to be united in the bonds of matrimony, it was only necessary that she should announce her wish by stepping forth.—There was a moment of perfect silence during which the handsome countryman still stood with his arms folded, his deep blue eyes gleaming forth a strange, wild light, and his fine form growing each moment more handsome by the moon's pale glare. Then a fair young girl stepped slowly out—glides up to his side, placed a tiny hand in his, and, glancing timidly up in the firm, manly face, announced that she was willing to trust her happiness in his hands.

Not another word was said. The clergyman again came forward—a brief but impressive ceremony was said, and, with the pale moon above and the rippling stream as witnesses, two more hearts were joined together, never to be separated on the shores of time.

There was a joyous party on the boat that night, and a glorious supper, at which the gallant captain presided, and said a score of handsome things to cheer the newly married couple on the journey they had so suddenly and strangely started upon. And we may also add that not one of the four has yet had cause to say that they married in haste to repent at leisure.

OLD TIMES IN MASSACHUSETTS.—In 1644 an order was passed "for the banishment of all who openly oppose infant baptism, or go about secretly to seduce others from the use thereof, or depart the congregation at the use thereof." This legislation seems to have been precipitated by the case of a Mr. Painter, "who on a sudden turned "Anabaptist, and having a child born, he would not suffer his wife to bring the child to the ordinance of baptism, for she was a member of the church, though he was not. Being presented for this, he still refused. Whereupon, after much patience and clear conviction of error, because he was very poor, so as no other but corporal punishment could be fastened on him, he was ordered to be whipped; not," continues Mr. Winthrop, from whom we have the account, "for his opinion, but for reproaching the Lord's ordinance. He endured his punishment with much obstinacy, and said boastingly, that God had marvlously assisted him."

In the following year, the synod met at Cambridge, to consider what course should be pursued in reference to certain books which had been imported from abroad—"some in defence of Anabaptism and other errors, and for liberty of conscience as a shelter for toleration to others in maintenance of the Prelaterial government against the Congregational way here." As the writers of these works were not within reach, it was determined that the books themselves should be subjected to the harrow of criticism, and a refutation accordingly appears, entitled "The Dipper Dipt, or the Anabaptists Duck'd and Plung'd over Head and Ears." [From "Sketches of Early Life in Boston," in Appleton's Journal.

THRILLING AND ROMANTIC STORY.

In the month of August, 1863, the French ship Adelina Eliza quitted Bordeaux, for Hong Kong. A month afterwards she was spoken off Cape of Good Hope. She was never heard of again until a few days since her history and the history of her crew became public. A typhoon in the Indian ocean threw her out of her course, dismasted her, broke her rudder, and tossed her towards Oceanica. Bad weather lasted thirty days, and when fair weather returned she struck upon a coral reef, and the exhausted crew were scarcely able to take refuge in boats.

It was a moonless, starless night when this accident occurred. They rowed wildly, and thanked God when the breaking day showed them an harbor surrounded by a charming landscape. They reached land and laid down to sleep. When they awoke, they found themselves, bound hand and foot, and surrounded by savages. Their captors proved to be cannibals. Eleven of them, captain included, were slain and eaten. Three others contrived (how, does not appear,) to make their escape, but they were mutilated. The one who succeeded in reaching Europe has one arm cut off and one eye torn out. The three reached a remote part of the island, where they found a canoe and embarked in it, preferring the risk of being devoured by sharks to the certainty of being killed and eaten by cannibals. Fortunately they found themselves in an archipelago, and were able to go from one island to another. After wandering for some time, moving as rapidly as possible away from the cannibals' home, George Samazon's two companions died of exhaustion.

He remained alone, mutilated, hopeless, upon a frail canoe. He nevertheless continued to push on, touching land only when necessary to sleep and to get water and food. He ate shell fish and roots. One day he reached the last island of the group, and nothing lay before him but the wide ocean. He set to work to build a raft. It took him a year. He launched it. The waves threw it back on the island. He several times tried to put it to sea, but constantly failed. He resolved to turn his footsteps landward, but in a different direction from the cannibals' home. He climbed a mountain, crossed a desert, fell again into savages' hands, once more escaped from them fled through forests; his feet were bitten by venomous insects; his face scabbed by the bites of mosquitoes. At last, nearer dead than alive he came upon white men. He had been walking for three years, and had crossed South America on foot! The white men received him kindly, and did what they could for him. He embarked upon a small Portuguese ship, and at last reached Europe. His family had long given him up for dead. —Paris Correspondence of the New Orleans Picayune.

"THE MAN MOUNTAIN."

CHANG, THE CHINESE GIANT.

Hearing that Chang, the great Mongolian giant, had arrived in New York, our reporter called at Libby's Hotel, and after some little parley with the agent, Mr. Parlett, of Norwich, Eng., succeded in gaining admission to this wonderful man.

On entering the parlor occupied by the distinguished visitor, our reporter saw the great man reclining in an arm chair, and in this position, though he appeared a tall man, he did not impress him very much by his immense size.

He was dressed in a long flowing robe, and seemed quite at his ease as he ate some nuts after his dinner. A lady dressed in European style was introduced as Mrs. Chang, and she is a very fair specimen of the Chinese type of beauty, a really handsome woman with easy and unaffected manner, who looked with a certain amount of wonder on the "man who makes the papers," as she called our reporter. At length, Parlett said that there was a representative of the New York press with Mr. Chang, and as the giant rose to his full height, and as he stretched out his hand in the most affable manner, his towering structure became fully apparent, and was enough to fill any one with a kind of awe. But any sentiment of this nature was quickly dispelled as Chang walked about the room chatting in English and French (both of which languages he speaks remarkably well.) His face is of the Chinese or Mongolian type, but has a pleasing and gracious expression. He said he was going back to China across the Continent by the Pacific Railroad, but that he intended to spend some months in New York and other cities of America. He said he liked New York very much, and regretted that he could not travel around and see the sights without attracting so much attention as to render his trips unpleasant. He intends, we understand, to hold some levees, as his agent calls them, in a few weeks, but nothing is announced from this point as yet.—N. Y. Express.

THE CHINESE.

The movement recently inaugurated for the wholesale introduction of Chinese laborers into this country is engaging a large share of public attention and eliciting considerable discussion in the newspapers.—We have forborne, heretofore, to take part in the discussion, or to express an opinion for or against the movement, for the reason that the subject was a new one and embraced topics affecting, not only the physical or material interests of the country, but its morals, also; and we had not given it sufficient investigation to speak advisedly in regard to it. We have, for some time watched the progress of the movement, and noted with no small degree of interest the effect that Chinese immigration has had upon the communities into which they have been introduced, so far as this could be done in the absence of official investigation and report, and from all we have been able to gather, so far, we are of opinion that the enterprise cannot prove otherwise than injurious to the permanent interests of the country, and may, at no very distant day, prove a subject of discord somewhat analogous to the one that we have so recently suffered so much on account of, and from which we are still suffering.

There can possibly arise no benefit from the introduction of this class of persons among us, at least for a long time, save only the material advantage which would accrue from their physical labor. This constitutes only a part of the strength, respectability and glory of a nation. They are not prepared, and, perhaps, never will be, to take an intelligent part in the management of government affairs, yet they will constitute an element that we know, by sad experience, might very easily be made a bone of contention and an element of discord, that might result in more damage to the country than anything that has yet been experienced, nay, even to the overthrow and utter ruin of the national and domestic blessings we now enjoy. All will admit that it would be unsafe and impolitic to clothe with all the attributes of citizenship a large number of semi-barbarians, totally unacquainted with the genius of our government or her institutions, and coming in a capacity, and placing themselves in a position, in which such knowledge could hardly be acquired. Yet it is not at all improbable that difficulties would arise, indeed we see outcroppings of it already, in regard to the extent to which they shall be clothed with civil and political privileges. The question of suffrage and political rights is far from being settled in the United States, yet; if we are to judge from the discussions in some of the States in regard to the negro, and of the continually growing clamor in regard to "women's rights." We think therefore it would be impolitic and unsafe, to introduce another element of discord and distraction into the councils of the nation, or among the people.

But there are other reasons why we would oppose Chinese immigration. We have a class of persons among us, especially here in the South, that require to be educated and inducted usefully into the position of life to which they have been admitted. As a people we owe this to them and to ourselves; and our welfare, the welfare of the recently emancipated negro, and the welfare of the country, all demand that this work be performed. In the transition state through which the freedmen have been, and are now, passing, little could be done for them and the circumstances have been unpropitious for them to show what they could, or would do for themselves. The great problem is yet to solve, and we think the country will have enough to do in solving it, without taking another and a worse job on its hands for the present.

The densely populated portions of our own country, in the North, the immigration from civilized Europe, and the African race among us, will furnish, we think, all the labor required for the developement of the natural resources of the thinly settled portions of our country; and in such instalments as to keep up a proper equilibrium in the component elements of a great nation.

RELICS OF THE SPANISH SETTLEMENT OF FLORIDA.—We learn that the workmen in overhauling the old fort at St. Augustine, Fla., discovered several subterranean cells or prisons, each of which contained a long iron upright box and a human skeleton in irons. It is supposed these were refractory Spanish soldiers, or perhaps prisoners of war, who were incarcerated in these sweat boxes and left there to die, hundreds of years ago.—Charleston Courier, July 31.

The Hotel Pelham, in Boston, weighing 5,000,000 tons, and having walls nearly 100 feet high, is to be moved by iron rollers a distance of fourteen feet.

DEDICATED TO THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA AND TO THE ALUMNI OF THE UNIVERSITY.

OLD MORTALITY.

In the whole range of English literature there is not a more touching, suggestive and valuable image than that of "Old Mortality." The work of rescuing from oblivion the names of those who have worthily borne their part in life, and have benefitted the age in which they lived, is not merely a sentimental tribute, it is a high and sacred duty which we owe not only to those who have gone before, but to those who shall come after us.

THE UNKNOWN DEAD.

But what shall we say of the unknown dead, of those who early fell by the way side, their purpose cut off at the very entrance of life by "the blind Fury with the abhorred shears." Who cares to sit by a nameless grave? I think there are few sadder objects of contemplation than the grave of a young man whose long and arduous training for the race had just been completed,—full of genius and generous ambition and hope,—compelled by the mysterious decree to relinquish it all and lie down in the dust. It affords the moralist one of his strongest arguments for the certainty of another state of existence, where the blighted hopes and aspirations of this life may be expanded into full fruition, and the high and noble nature may go on to perfection. How many of the young men connected with the University of North Carolina, lived not half their days! How many for whose future the most brilliant anticipations were justly indulged! Without considering the hecatombs of the late war, if we could glance at a list of the members from the opening of the University, to the year 1861, we would stand aghast to see of how large a proportion it is written "died young;" and of these, it is still more striking to observe how many were the most promising of all.

CHARLES WILSON HARRIS.

The first young man who came to our University, came as the first Professor of Mathematics. His name has long since passed out even from among the faintest echoes of our State, for he was among her early dead, and was permitted to achieve none of the great things to which he aspired and for which he had carefully prepared himself. Yet it may be well for us to stand a few moments by his tombstone, brushing aside the weeds, and grass, and moss, that nearly 70 years have accumulated round it, and let our hearts be softened by the thoughts suggested.

> For of all sad words of tongue or pen,
> The saddest are these—"It might have been."

Charles W. Harris came from one of our best Mecklenburg families. His father, Robert Harris, was an uncommon man; an elder in the Presbyterian Church; a gallant and true soldier of the Revolution, who lost his right arm at the battle of Guilford, but lived many years to be, himself, the right arm of the Church and the neighborhood in which he lived. His first wife was a Miss Wilson, who died young leaving two sons and a daughter, of whom Charles W. was the eldest—born 1771, at Millgrove, an estate then lying in Mecklenburg, but now in Cabarrus, and in the possession of Wm. S. Harris, Esq., his cousin. The father afterwards married the widow of Gen. William Lee Davidson, who fell at Cowan's Ford, and whose name and fame are perpetuated in Davidson College. Mrs. Davidson was a Brevard and sister of the author of the Mecklenburg Declaration. By this lady, Charles W. was brought up.

HIS EDUCATION AND CHARACTER.

He was a graduate of Princeton, and soon after returning to North Carolina, though his destination was the Bar, was induced to take the Professorship of Mathematics at Chapel Hill, at the first opening of the University in 1796, principally by the influence of Gen. Davie, who was a warm personal friend, and under whom he studied Law. He undertook it with the express stipulation that it should only be for a short time, and meanwhile used all his influence with Joseph Caldwell, then a tutor at Princeton, to induce him to become his successor. His letters written in '96, show that his purpose to be a lawyer, and to attain distinction in that profession, was very strong. His colleagues were Rev. David Kerr, a Scotch Irish Presbyterian from Trinity College, Dublin, and Rev. S. Holmes, teacher of the Prep. Department. Mr. Kerr was the presiding officer, and a man of ability, but an unhappy scandal compelled him to resign. "much against his will," in the first year. He went to the Southwest where his career was an interesting one, and where his descendants are now respected and influential. Mr. Harris, according to tradition, was the master spirit of the Faculty, though not a "Rev." and not then even a believer in the Christian religion. He was indeed a man of genius, of finished education, of accomplished manners and of acknowledged ability in all the departments of life. Yet from all we can learn of him, and his associates, his ascendancy must be ascribed to the courage and innate superiority given by an unspotted moral character, and the consciousness of unstained honor and habitual purity.

LETTERS TO CALDWELL.

His letters, though few in number, are exceedingly interesting. One dated July 24, 1796, gives a full account of the infant University, its condition and prospects, of the state of society in Chapel Hill, and what Mr. Caldwell was to expect if he should decide to come. The salary attached to his Professorship was $500, "with prospect of a rise." By Mr. Kerr's departure, he was then acting President, but he did not find the duties oppressive, "receiving my reward in finding myself useful to an Institution zealously patronized by the whole State." There were nominally six Professorships, only two of which had been filled. There were 100 students, including the Prep. Department, and board was forty dollars a year. The people of Chapel Hill and the neighborhood were exceedingly rude and illiterate, necessitating a ride of 12 miles to Hillsboro in order to enjoy "Society." And if Mr. Caldwell should decide to come, he had better bring an extra supply of linen, broadcloth, stockings, &c., "such things being difficult to procure in this country."

Dr. Caldwell finally accepting, he left Princeton according to Mr. Harris' advice, in a single chaise and horse, (his trunks going round by water to Petersburg) via Philadelphia, Washington, Mt. Vernon, Richmond, Petersburg and Hillsboro, a route that would "economize his means, improve his knowledge of the geography of the country, and afford him much entertainment."

RETURN TO THE BAR.

Mr. Harris resumed his profession at Halifax, enjoying the friendship of Davie and with every prospect of succeeding to his practice and influence. His career was brief, but brilliant. In 1802, Davie and some other distinguished and influential friends prevailed on him to accept a place on the Bench, but in the fall of that year, Pulmonary Consumption had so evidently marked him for its own, and its progress became so rapid that he refused to allow his name to go before the Legislature. By slow and sad degrees he relinquished his business and pursuits, and in 1803 made a last vain attempt to baffle his insidious decease by visiting the West Indies. He returned thence to New York in September 1803, and from that city addressed his last letter to his only brother then a prosperous merchant doing business in Cheraw and Sneedsboro. The letter is dated September 12th 1803 and says: "The yellow fever is raging in this city. I look out of my window and see scarcely four doors open in all my view;—the inhabitants have fled. As I find no vessels here from the South, and as I am not able to travel by stage, I must perhaps wait until the white frost restore health and commerce to the city." He arrived at his father's house at Millgrove, during the fall, and while the pleasant weather of the Indian summer lasted, went to pay his brother a final visit.

SNEEDSBORO.

Perhaps but few people in the State know anything about Sneedsboro' or how it came by its name. In 1796 it was a place of considerable trade at the head of navigation on Pedee River, 10 or 12 miles above Cheraw. It was then supposed to be in South Carolina, but about 1807 the North Carolina Legislature commissioned Dr. Caldwell and two other distinguished citizens to run the State line in connexion with a similar commission from South Carolina. Sneedsboro' was then recognized as a part of the territory of North Carolina. The town has now gone to decay and its streets are said to constitute part of a cotton-field. Sneedsboro'—or as it ought to be spelt, Sneydsboro', should have had a better late. The village was named by the oldest brother of Maria Edgeworth in compliment to his accomplished step mother Honora Sneyd Edgeworth. This lady, before her marriage to Mr. Edgeworth, had been affianced to the unfortunate Major Andre, and neither her subsequent rejection of his suit, nor her marriage to another, tended in the slightest degree to efface her image from his heart.—At the time of his arrest he concealed her miniature in his mouth. The oldest son of Mr. Edgeworth (by his first wife) was of a wild and roving temper. He settled in America, marrying an American lady, and eventually finding his way to what is now Anson county N. C, founded and named the village of Sneydsboro'. Edgeworth's Mill in its vicinity is a locality still well known. (See N. C. University Magazine for March 1853.)

RELIGIOUS OPINIONS.

It cannot be doubted that there was very little religion in N. C. among the educated classes 75 years ago. The delusions of infidel philosophy were everywhere prevalent. Gen. Davie it is well known was confirmed in infidel principles while at the Court of France, and it is not to be wondered at that young Harris, his friend and pupil, should have embraced his distinguished preceptor's creed. And yet they had both sprung from Presbyterian families and been reared in Presbyterian communities—Davie in Waxhaw and Harris in Poplar Tent. With the high breeding characteristic of the gentleman of that day neither of them ever sought to obtrude their infidel sentiments. In none of Harris' most confidential letters is there any indication of such principles, except one addressed to his uncle in which he openly disavows his belief in the Christian system, adding that his knowledge of the science of mathematics did not enable him to make three equal to one, or one equal to three. A remark evidently aimed at the sublime and mysterious doctrine of the Trinity. But he was ordinarily particularly reticent on these subjects, on account of the feeling and position of his father.

HIS DEATH BED.

From his visit to Sneedsboro, Mr. Harris never returned. His disease gained ground so rapidly, that his father was sent for and arrived only in time to see his last days.—These last days were however his best days, by the grace of God. Silent and reserved as he had ever been on the subject of his inner feelings, no one knew whether any change had taken place in his views or not. His position had been well known while at Chapel Hill.

J. H. Hobart, afterwards the accomplished and superb Bishop of the Diocese of New York, replying Nov. 30, 1796, to a letter from Dr. Caldwell who had been his classmate and associate at Princeton, says:

"With due respect to the Faculty of the University of North Carolina, I must say they constitute as motley a group as I have ever heard of: Presbyterians, Arians, Infidels and Roman Catholics. Bless me! what a collection! The age of reason has surely come; superstition and bigotry are buried in one common grave; philosophy and charity begin to bless the earth. Transporting thought! What a glory to the University of North Carolina that in her sacred seats they have just appeared. I expected something better of Harris; I did not believe that he would become the disciple of infidelity. There is no knowing however where mere philosophy will lead men."

What then must have been the feelings of the venerable father of Charles W. Harris, when a month before his death he formally and solemnly renounced his infidelity assuring his friends that he died in the faith of Christ, humbly expressing a hope in Him for his salvation.

And so this brilliant young man died in peace, in the month of December, 1803, not having completed his 33rd year. He was buried at Sneydsboro; and a marble headstone still marks his resting place. He had been a Freemason, but dying, he particularly requested that "no Masonic light should be shed over his ashes."

We may stand by his grave, and repeat the words of Ebenezer Elliott over his dead children. "They left behind them no memorial, but they are safe in the bosom of mercy, and not quite forgotten even here."

LOUISVILLE, August 3d.—The Courier Journal has advices from Nashville, purporting to be from a reliable source, making startling disclosures concerning the plans of the Stokes party in Tennessee.

These advices assert that it is the intention of Col. Stokes to assemble a Legislature of his own at Nashville to organize a separate State government and call upon Gen. Cooper, of the militia, for his assistance. Cooper is said to be committed to the conspiracy.

The federal officeholders and republican municipal authorities of Nashville are also a part of it. The scheme is attributed to Horace Maynard, but it is said to have the approval of Bon well and other republican leaders of Washington. In lieu of the militia, which are disbanded, Cooper expects to be backed up by the Grand Army of the Republic.

The object of the movement is to create a conflict calling for the interposition of Congress, which will be memorialized in regard to the subject. It is expected the administration will protect General Stokes and his party until Congress meets.

On Sunday night the occupants of the tents at the camp meeting grounds at Cedar Grove, Narragansett Bay, were drugged with chloroform, and a large amount of money, watches and clothing was stolen.

STATE NEWS.

FIRE IN FAYETTEVILLE.—We are indebted to a correspondent in Fayetteville for the following facts in relation to a fire which occurred in that town on Monday night: The letter is dated August 3rd:

"Last night about 12 o'clock, a fire was seen breaking out from near the centre of the large framed store of Mr. W. G. Mathews, on the corner of Hay and Maxwell Streets. It burned with very great rapidity, the house being very large, and the heat very great, caught that beautiful fire proof building, the Clarendon Bank. When that building burned through to the opposite side, it caught to one of the windows of Messrs. J. D. Williams & Co., but a plentiful supply of water soon stopped it there. Quite a quantity of goods were damaged, however, in the store.

The fire crossed Maxwell Street and burnt a shoe shop and dwelling, which belonged to Ray & Pearce and the estate of J. D. Starr.

Matthews was insured on the building $2000, and on his goods $5,500. Williams was insured; his damage was light.

The shoe shop and dwelling were also insured.

Several firemen got hurt but none seriously. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

ANOTHER EXCURSION.—An excursion party will leave Weldon, on Wednesday next, for Norfolk, Old Point and the Capes. We should not be surprised if Stone goes.

A YOUNG SUICIDE.—A negro aged about eight years, committed suicide at Halifax, in this State, recently, by jumping into the Roanoke. He committed the act because his mother made him take some medicine. So says the Roanoke News.

SERIOUS AFFAIR IN HALIFAX COUNTY. On Friday night last, as we learn from the Roanoke News, a difficulty occurred at the house of Mr. George Pittard, near Gaston, between his brother, Jesse Pittard, and Richard M. King, both young men of the neighborhood and highly respected. In the affray, Mr. King drew a knife and inflicted two or three severe wounds on Pittard. It was feared at first that Pittard's wounds would prove fatal, but latter intelligence states that it is thought he may recover.

DIED.—The white woman, so badly injured at the recent burning of the residence of Mr. Thos. Carroll, near Ridgeway, lived for eight days after the accident, when death released her from her sufferings.—Roanoke News.

NAME CHANGED.—The name of Mosely Hall, in Lenoir County, has been changed to "La Grange," and the post office at that place has had its name changed accordingly.

THE WARRENTON MYSTERY.—The Living Present gives the following in regard to the mysterious discovery of human bones in that town, a notice of which we copied a few days ago, from the Roanoke News:

"On Wednesday last, while taking up the flooring of Mr. John R. Johnson's shoe factory, on the corner of Main and Franklin streets, the workmen engaged therein were horrified at discovering on the ground, beneath the flooring, the skeletons of five human beings.

Here, veiled in mystery, which the last great day alone will solve, is perhaps one of the darkest, most cold-blooded crimes which ever shocked a civilized people.

The building, which is a portion of the old Court House of Bute County, was removed to this place on the formation of Warren, and has been occupied since 1844 by its present owner, Mr. Johnson, whose character for integrity and high principle, entirely divests him of any tinge of suspicion, particularly as the appearance of the partially decayed bones of the skeletons point to a period further back as the date of their deposit there.

Just ninety years ago, Bute county was divided into Warren and Franklin, and the building, used as a court house moved to the capital of the new county of Warren, where it has been variously used since as law offices, tenement rooms, Hotel, Bar and gambling rooms, &c. It does not require a very great effort to fancy, amid the demoralization immediately succeeding the revolution, the establishment here, far away from the busy centres of trade and travel, of a den of murderers and thieves, whose bloody record perished with their numerous victims, and whose existence is marked only now by the grinning jaws of the five silent witnesses so recently brought to light.

This is the only reasonable solution of the problem, as the oldest of our citizens remember nothing in the least degree calculated to throw light on the subject.

We think our good friend, Mr. Johnson, would find it profitable to tear down the premises and make a thorough search for buried treasure, which doubtless plentifully abounds in the shape of sundry earthern jars full of Spanish doubloons or British sovereigns.

RETURNED.—At the request of Sheriff Patterson, of Burke County, W. W. Causey and his paramour, Miss Lou Jackson, who left this county for the good of public morals, returned on Tuesday night and were lodged in jail to answer the charge of adultery, for which they stand indicted in our Superior Court.—Greensboro Patriot.

EMIGRATION FROM THE SOUTH TO SPAIN.—The Manchester Guardian has a London correspondent who communicates to that journal a singular project, which he asserts has been set on foot in London and Paris, for the colonization of a portion of Spain now sparsely peopled by emigrants from the Southern States of the Union. The writer asserts that "some of the men who headed distinguished commands in the Confederate army are ready to lead back to Europe the descendants of those who, two centuries ago, planted the transatlantic Dominion." He says they find it impossible to reconcile themselves to the altered condition of things that has arisen since the civil war. They have been used, he says, to a land of tradition and of memories associated with old world institutions, and sooner than give these up they are willing to cast in their future lot with Catholic and aristocratic Spain. General Prim is said to favor the project, for he appreciates the military qualities of the race, and not unnaturally thinks that the infusion of new blood would be of no little value to his country." This is a fair specimen of the "reliable European correspondent." The only "portion of Spain" that we hear of any Southerners emigrating to is Cuba, if Cuba may be considered in that category and it is very doubtful whether the kind of emigration they are said to be engaged in would meet the special favor of General Prim.—Baltimore Sun.

Last Saturday a monument was erected in Portsmouth in remembrance of Father Delvin, who during the yellow fever in 1855 devoted his life to doing good. It was procured by the people of Portsmouth, Va., at a cost of $2,000.

The village of Moore's Flat, Nevada county, Cal., was destroyed by fire July 31. Loss $100,000.

Koskoo!

THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which KOSKOO has attained in all parts of the Country

AS A GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE,

has induced Dr. LAWRENCE to ENLARGE HIS LABORATORY and FACILITIES for MANUFACTURING, so as to be enabled to supply the extraordinary demand for it.

THE LARGE NUMBER OF TESTIMONIALS which are constantly being received from Physicians and persons who HAVE BEEN CURED by its use, is CONCLUSIVE PROOF of its REMARKABLE VALUE.

As a BLOOD PURIFIER, it HAS NO EQUAL,

BEING POSITIVELY THE

Most Powerful Vegetable Alterative

YET DISCOVERED!

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

"The life of the flesh is in the Blood," is a Scriptural maxim that science proves to be true. The people talk of bad blood, as the cause of many diseases, and like many popular opinions, this of bad blood is founded in truth. To say nothing of those humors that are hereditary, we can easily see how the Blood may become bad from imperfect Digestion or failure of excretion and how this may influence the process of Nutrition, and thus influence all the functional activities of the body.

The symptoms of bad blood are usually quite plain—bad Digestion—causes imperfect nutrition, and consequently the circulation is feeble, the soft tissues lose their tone and elasticity, and the tongue becomes pale, broad, and frequently covered with a pasty, white coat. This condition soon shows itself in roughness of the skin, then in ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE diseases, and when long continued, results in serious lesions of the Brain, Liver, Lungs, or urinary apparatus. Much, very much, suffering is caused by impure blood. It is estimated by some that one-fifth of the human family are affected with scrofula in some form.

Persons suffering from any bad humor are very liable to have it settle on the Lungs or some other vital organ. The only safe rule is to remove the Blood poison at once, before it settles itself upon some vital point.

When the Blood is pure, you are not so liable to any disease. Many impurities of the Blood arise from impure diseases of large cities. Eradicate every impurity from the fountain of life, and good spirits, fair skin and vital strength will return to you.

KOSKOO!

AS A

LIVER INVIGORATOR!

STANDS UNRIVALLED.

BEING THE ONLY KNOWN MEDICINE that EFFECTUALLY stimulates and CORRECTS the hepatic or sedentary and functional DERANGEMENTS of the LIVER, without debilitating the system. While it acts FREELY upon the Liver instead of CORTOSE FURIOSO, it gradually changes the discharges to A PERFECTLY NATURAL STATE.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT AND OF SOME OF THOSE DISEASES PRODUCED BY IT.

A sallow or yellow color of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, sometimes headache; bitter or bad taste in the mouth, internal heat; in many cases a dry, teasing cough; unsteady appetite; sometimes sour stomach, with a raising of the food; a bloated or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the sides, back, or breast, and about the shoulders; constipation of the bowels; piles, flatulence, coldness of the extremities, &c.

KOSKOO!

Is a remedy of WONDERFUL EFFICACY in the cure of diseases of the KIDNEYS and BLADDER. In these affections it is as near A SPECIFIC as any remedy can be. It does its work KINDLY, SILENTLY, and SURELY. The RELIEF which it affords is both CERTAIN and PERMANENT.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Persons unacquainted with the structure and functions of the Kidneys cannot estimate the IMPORTANCE of their healthy action.

Regular and sufficient action of the Kidneys is as important, nay, even more so, than regularity of the bowels. The Kidneys remove from the Blood those effete matters which, if permitted to remain, would speedily destroy life. A total suspension of the urinary discharges will occasion death from thirty-six to forty-eight hours.

When the Urine is voided in small quantities at the time, or when there is a disposition to Urinate more frequently than natural, or when the Urine is high colored or scalding with weakness in the small of the back, it should not be trifled with or delayed but Koskoo should be taken at once to remedy the difficulty, before a lesion of the organs takes place. Most of the diseases of the Bladder originate from those of the Kidneys, the urine being imperfectly secreted in kidneys, prove irritating to the Bladder and Urinary passages. When we recollect that medicine never reaches the Kidneys except through the general circulation of the Blood we see how necessary it is to keep the Fountain of Life Pure.

KOSKOO!

MEETS WITH GREAT SUCCESS IN THE CURE OF

Almost nine-tenths of our people suffer from nervous exhaustion, and are, therefore, liable to its concomitant evils of mental depression, confused ideas, softening of the brain, insanity, and complete breaking down of the general health. Thousands are suffering to-day with broken-down nervous systems, and, unfortunately, tobacco, alcohol, late hours, over-work, (mental and physical) are causing diseases of the nervous system to increase at a fearful ratio.

The symptoms to which diseases of the nervous system give rise, may be stated as follows. A dull, heavy feeling in the head, sometimes more or less severe pain or headache; Periodical headache, Dizziness, Noises or Ringing in the Head; Confusion of Ideas; Temporary Loss of Memory; Dejection of Spirits; Starting during Sleep; Bad Dreams; Hesitation in answering questions; Dulness of Hearing; Twitching of the Face and Arms, &c., which, if not promptly treated, lead to Paralysis, Delirium, Insanity, Impotency, Apoplexy, &c., &c.

CONCLUSION.

Suffering reader, do not think that because you have tried other remedies, you cannot be cured, but recollect that God, in His Providence, has not afflicted His children with pain and disease, without at the same time giving them something in the Great Garden of Nature that will cure them.

Have no hesitation in writing to me, and stating your case in full, and I will answer you promptly.

ACCIDENT.—While the workmen were laying the wall of the new Market House this morning, a scaffold, some ten or twelve feet high, gave way, by which those at work on it were precipitated to the ground.—William Brown, Jake Hill and Ben Manly were very badly hurt, and Peter Smith and Fred. Lane (all colored) were slightly hurt. Brown, we learn, was very painfully injured, but it is not thought that any are fatally hurt.

ELECTION TO-DAY.—The election in Raleigh to day, up to the time of going to press, has been remarkably quiet. At 3 o'clock the number of votes had reached about 800, but what the party complexion is, we have no ground for even a guess.—The vote will probably fall considerably short of a full one.

GREEN CORN!—Russell Bass was up before Justice Adams to-day for stealing roasting ears from the field of J. H. Cooper.—Russell "fessed the corn," and was committed to jail in default of bond for his appearance.

BABY BY THE POUND—STRANGE AFFAIR.—We understand that Mr. Henry Harris, who keeps a shop on Hillsboro' Street, bought a quantity of rags, yesterday, of a white boy, which turned out to be not so much rags as he bargained for. After the boy had traded out his rags and left, Mr. Harris thought he would empty them and examine them, when, lo! controlled a dead infant from the bundle. Mr. Harris did not know the boy, nor did he notice which way he went. And up to this time the officers have not been able to trace him up.

PREMATURE.—The Standard has several times preached the funeral of the Democracy lately, but as we had seen no notice of its death, except in that paper, we were inclined to doubt the correctness of the report, notwithstanding the known character of that sheet for correctness and veracity.—Friday, in his speech at the Court House, last night, which was not reported in the Standard this morning, nor even alluded to, said, Democracy is not dead, and Friday knows. We hear that Friday forgot to treat last night, and so failed to get into print.

PRETTY DRY.—Just before the commencement of the last refreshing rains, a farmer of Wake county brought a load of watermelons to market for sale, which he declared had not had a drop of rain on the vines, from the time the seeds were put in the ground to the gathering of the melons for market. This is quite a remarkable circumstance.

PUB. DOC.—We are indebted to the Agent of the Patent Office for the Monthly Report of the Department of Agriculture for the month of July.

THE NORTH BRITISH.—We are indebted to the Leonard Scott publishing Company, 140, Fulton Street, New York, for the July Number of the North British Review, American Edition. This Review, together with the London, Edinburg and Westminster, can be had by addressing the Company, as above.

LET US HAVE PEACE.—The Governor has sent 200 stand of arms, with 1,000 rounds of ammunition, to Greensboro'. Trying to scare the Quakers now.

A RUMOR.—It has been rumored in Raleigh, this afternoon, that a difficulty occurred, to-day, at Selma, Johnston County, between two citizens of that place, which resulted in the severe injury of one of the parties. We await further particulars.

IN TIME OF PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR. A negro whose name was given as Peter Rand, was committed to the lock-up today, on a charge of stealing a blanket from Captain Bozier, of the detective melish.—No doubt Peter has got the military fever, and was preparing for the next campaign.

A GENERAL WAIL.—Charles E. Moss, ultra Radical, gives up the ghost in last week's Anti-Slavery Standard, with the statement that disintegration has set rapidly in the party, and he bewails thus: "Virginia is lost; Tennessee follows Virginia; Mississippi, also, I fear; and Texas most certainly."

THE COMET; or, the Earth, in its varied phases, past, present and future, as delivered from the highest and most reliable authorities. In three parts—with illustrations. Published by E. J. Hale & Sons, 16 Murray St., New York. 1 Vol., 550 pp., 12 mo. Price $2.25.

It is very seldom, in these days of mere re-iteration and re-production, that so able, striking and original a book as this is found riding above the surface of ordinary, current literature. And when it is added, as it may be without any violation of confidence, (so long as names are not given,) that the author is an eminent North Carolinian, everything is said, which ought to be necessary to be said, to commend it to the favorable notice of our immediate people.

But this remarkable work rests upon no such narrow basis as that of mere local appreciation. We venture the assertion that, if it was sent forth with the imprimatur of an Agassiz, or of a Professor at Oxford, Gottingen, Cambridge or Yale, it would be deemed, in the profundity of its thought and the scope of its research, equal to such a paternity, and would create a profound impression, not only in scientific circles but with the reading public at large. As it is, we predict a sensation. Critics and skeptics will assail it, because it is pregnant with new ideas; but, however successfully many of its deductions may be combated, none can deny its learning, the largeness of its conceptions, the ingenuity with which they are presented, or the conformity of the argument to the word of inspiration and the revelations of nature.

In one respect, certainly, the distinguished author is at fault. He reasons out with the declaration that he is no theorist, and yet he broaches many very startling theories, which are greatly at war with all preconceived opinions and notions. And yet it will be found a very difficult task to show wherein those theories are erroneous, if wrong they be.

The style of the work is fine,—perspicuous, well rounded, and marked, occasionally, by a most relishable humor. The typography is worthy of the enterprising publishers.

We advise every reading man and woman to call at the excellent Bookstore of Mr. Williams, on Fayetteville Street, and purchase the book.

Two street cars for Wilmington, passed through Weldon on Monday last. Just think of it! A city in the Old North State with cars running along her streets, conveying her business men to dinner and back to their counting rooms. Wake up, Newbern! We are able to walk, in Raleigh, yet; besides, we are building a splendid, new, and costly market house.

WIDE SPREAD USEFULNESS.—The relief of the wants of the deserving poor, and especially of widows and orphans, whose natural provider has been lost to them, is a subject which has been forced upon the attention of communities and individuals through all history, and many plans of systematic relief have been discussed.—Great good has been done by the aid thus given to those unable to help themselves; but, after all, charity is not the best way in which such help can be secured. To accept of alms involves, in some degree, a loss of self-respect and independence. What is wanted is some system by which, at small gradual cost, every laboring man may make sure of leaving to his family, when death takes him away, a sum sufficient to keep the wolf from the door. Such a plan is offered to the public in the advertisement of the National Life Insurance Company in another column. The general features of the management of this Company are there noted, and the local agents will cheerfully give any further information as to the peculiar advantages offered. The "National Life" was chartered by Congress less than one year ago; it began business in August last, having then to establish its entire system of agencies, and to distribute information among the people as to its character and purposes. Both of these things have been done; the entire country and the Canadian Dominion are now covered by its general and sub agencies, and liberal advertising has made the name of the Company familiar throughout the land.—The result has surprised even its incorporators and officers. In ten months nearly 5,400 policies, covering over $15,000,000 insurance have been issued, this amount of business being nearly double that ever done by any other Company in the world during the entire first year of its existence. Such an unprecedented success should not only inspire unusual confidence in the organization so emphatically endorsed, but be the subject of general congratulation that the new Company has been able to do so much for the future comfort of the families insured. Every family thus protected from want is a proportionate diminution of future taxation, temptation and crime.

Low cash rates, and a plain business contract of so much insurance for so much money (avoiding all uncertainties of notes or dividends) are prominent features of the plan pursued by the National Life. Its capitalists ample, its Officers and Directors men of unquestioned honor and ability, and its system of business is straightforward and business like. It deserves its success, and it has already taken front rank among institutions of its kind.

See advertisement of P. F. Pescud, the successful and very popular General Agent, for N. C., in another column.

SOUTH CAROLINA "MELISH".—We are informed that a detachment of carpet-bagger Scott's militia was in Hamburg Friday night, on duty at the end of the bridge. The cause of this warlike display we did not learn, but rumor has it that a raid of Georgia Ku Klux was anticipated. We have never seen a real live Ku-Klux, but we have the right material here in Richmond to regulate Mr. Scott's ragamuffins, if they ever get on Georgia soil.—They might be induced to take Hamburg within their jurisdiction in case of necessity, so that if the valiant militia study their own safety they will have to behave themselves while in this vicinity.—Augusta Chronicle.

The late Henry Keep is said to have left his wife and daughter $2,000,000 of the stock of a single railroad, with advice to keep it as the best perpetual investment for the money. It is understood that not less than $8,000,000 more are disposed of in his will.

General Robert E. Lee and his compatriots deny that any conference between them and Governor Walker has been solicited or contemplated by either side. The General cannot be coaxed into active politics.

The Radicals spare neither the living nor the dead. They are now engaged in the genial work of blackening the memory of Hon. Isaac Toucey.

An Irishman dropped a letter in the postoffice the other day, with the following memorandum on the corner, for the benefit of all indolent postmasters into whose hands it might fall. "Please hasten the delay of this."

The fatal cattle disease, which has prevailed for some weeks at Bristol, Tennessee, is extending its ravages eastward. Several cattle at Abingdon, Va., and in the vicinity, have died within the last few days.

An Iowa girl, described as a "pretty, talkative, laughing, bright-eyed brunette," lately got into Omaha in the evening, was introduced to a young man next morning, went to a pic nic with him, and brought him home and married him before supper.

The Rome correspondence of the Paul Mall Gazette of July 16th, says the Pope has been thrown into great affliction by the death of his brother, Count Gabriel Mastai, who a few days ago broke his leg, and by this accident terminated his life, in his eighty-eighth year.

A SPINNING WHEEL FOR THE QUEEN.—An Irish spinning wheel has been made to order for Queen Victoria by Mr. James McCreery, a wood turner in Conn's Water Mill. The wheel is composed of mahogany and Irish alder, and has been hand polished in a superb manner. On the "stock"—the lower edge of which is trimmed with silver—is a tiara of shamrocks in bog oak, while the "rocks" hold a "streak" of fine Irish flax from the works of the Northern Spinning Company, selected out of a quantity of flax which cost 21s. per stone. The royal wheel reached Buckingham Palace on July 1.

GROWTH OF ST. LOUIS.—The following statistics in reference to this important Western city have recently been published: The number of houses built in 1866 was 1,369, and in the three subsequent years four times that number, or 5,476, making a total of 24,929. The present number of inhabitants of the city is estimated at 220,000. The city, so far, is divided into two thousand blocks, with 24 building lots of 25 feet front each, giving 48,000 building lots. About one sixth of the area is not yet laid out in blocks, which gives 333 additional blocks, with 7,992 building lots or a total of 55,992 lots, where within the present city limits houses may be erected.

THE THAMES TUNNEL.—The Thames tunnel has been finally closed as a public footway. This undertaking, which at the time of its design was considered a masterpiece of science, and which formed a communication under the river Thames between Rotherhithe and Wapping, was, after numerous difficulties, finally accomplished and opened on the 23d of March, 1843 having been commenced by Sir I. S. Burnel in 1824. The total cost of the tunnel was about £600,000, but the East London Railway Company recently purchased it for a little over a third of that sum. The company will run their trains through the tunnel, their line brings the inhabitants of Wapping, Sadwell, &c., within easy distance of Southwark Park.

THE SAD HAVOC OF WAR.—M. Leroy Beaulieu, an industrious Frenchman, has calculated that during the fourteen years between 1852 and 1865 not less than 1,750,000 soldiers have been killed, at an expense to the several governments of $9,565,000,000—that is to say, an average expendi ure of $5,465 to a man. The number slain, therefore, is equal to the whole male population of Holland, to the combined commercial and industrial workmen of France, more than equal to half the entire population of the city of London or the State of Ohio. The mere money is six times as much as it cost to build all the French railways.

A suicide has just been committed under extraordinary circumstances at St. Petersburg. Colonel Hunnius, an Esthonian by birth, was lately engaged in discussing with the Czarewitch a financial operation concerning the armament of the troops, and the Grand Duke, considering the terms proposed too high, exclaimed: "With Germans one is always sure to be cheated." On the Colonel civilly requesting his Highness to withdraw so offensive an expression, the latter forgot himself so far as to strike the officer in the face. The Colonel immediately applied to the Emperor, who ordered his son to apologize, but this he positively refused to do. Despairing of obtaining any satisfaction, and smarting under an insult he was unable to resent, the unfortunate officer committed suicide by blowing out his brains. The Emperor is said to have been most painfully affected by the sad event, and insisted on the Grand Duke attending the funeral.

ANOTHER FOOLISH EXPLOIT AT NIAGARA FALLS.—Prof. Andrew Jenkins, sometimes called the Canadian Blondin, a tight rope performer of celebrity, about the 20th of August intends to essay a most perilous feat; nothing less than crossing the fearful chasm of Niagara river below the falls by means of a velocipede ridden over a tight rope. The vehicle used by the daring velocipedo-funambulist is of peculiar construction. The wheels are grooved, and it is propelled by the hands, a balance pole being carried on the feet. Prof. J. says by this means he can surmount a considerable grade. Nothing of the sort has ever been attempted in public, and the novelty and danger of the feat will doubtless attract a large crowd.

The income of Mrs. Colt, the widow of the celebrated pistol manufacturer, is $400,000 per annum.

THE ALABAMA ELECTION.

SELMA, Aug. 4.—Election passed off quietly. Reports from several beats show a considerable falling off from the vote of last year. The vote in this city resulted as follows:

Buck, 2 838; Mann, 511. A Democratic loss of 182. Union beat, Mann 32, Buck none.

MONTGOMERY, Aug. 4.—Election news is meagre. So far as heard from the vote is much less than last year. The probabilities are in favor of the election of Parkinson (Democrat) in the 3rd district by a handsome majority. The contest between Worthy (dem.) and Buck (rep.) in the 2d district will be much closer than was expected, and the latter's friends are fearful of his defeat on account of the great falling off in the negro vote.

MOBILE, Aug 4.—Mann's majority in Mobile County so far as heard from is fourteen hundred and fifty-nine with several precincts to hear from. The county probably gives eighteen hundred majority for Mann. At the Court House in Baldwin County, a negro radical mob took possession of the polls, beat one white man badly and prevented any democratic negroes from voting. They were very riotous and the sheriff could not control them. That precinct gives Buckly two hundred and twenty majority. Pollard, capital of Escambia, gives Mann one hundred and nine majority. Claiborne, Monroe County, at 4 P. M. had polled eight hundred and eighty-three, all for Mann. The indications are that Mann is elected by fifteen hundred majority.

"Fresh as a Maiden's Blush" is the pure peachy Complexion which follows the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm. It is the True Secret of Beauty. Fashionable Ladies in Society understand this.

The Magnolia Balm changes the rustic Country Girl into a City Belle more rapidly than any other one thing.

Redness, Sunburn, Tan, Freckles, Blotches and all effects of the Summer Sun disappear where it is used, and a genial, cultivated, fresh expression is obtained which rivals the Bloom of Youth. Beauty is possible to all who will invest 75 cents at any respectable store and insist on getting the Magnolia Balm.

ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

JANUARY 1ST., 1869.

Assets $10,462,531,75.

Amount of Income 6,227,071.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,675,999,48.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

SPARKLING CATAWBA SPRINGS.
CATAWBA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS CELEBRATED WATERING PLACE, formerly called the North Carolina White Sulphur Springs, will be open for visitors on Tuesday, the first day of June next.

Being situated in the northwestern part of the State in a country remarkable for its beauty and healthfulness—these, together with the virtue of the waters, make it one of the most desirable watering places to be found.

The MINERAL WATERS of these Springs are the White and Blue Sulphur and Chalybeate or Iron, and they possess all the finest qualities of these waters, and are sovereign remedies for all diseases of the liver, bowels, stomach and kidneys, eruptions of the skin, scrofula, weakness, debility dyspepsia, rheumatism, &c.

The proprietor having spent a large amount in additional buildings and improvement generally, these Springs are now in a fine condition, rooms large and pleasant, and good cottages containing from two to six rooms each, well arranged for either large or small families.

Good TEN PIN ALLEYS, BILLIARD TABLES and other amusements.

FINE BATH HOUSES, for Pool, Plunge or Shower Bath, Sulphur Bath, Hot or Cold.

A GOOD BAND OF MUSIC

Will be at the Springs the entire season, and a good Physician permanently located for the benefit of invalids, who will take every attention.

Having secured the services of Mr. J. N. CARTER, of Virginia, who has had much experience and stands high as a Hotel keeper, visitors may rest assured that my table will be supplied with the best the market can afford, and everything done that will add to their pleasure and comfort.

The cars on the Western North Carolina Rail Road will leave Salisbury for Hickory Station, the Springs' depot, every morning, (Sundays excepted,) in connection with the North Carolina Railroad, avoiding stoppage or delay at Salisbury, and arrive at Hickory station in time for breakfast, where good hacks will be in readiness to take passengers over a beautiful, well-shaded road to the Springs—a distance of six miles.

As an inducement for families and parties to spend two months or more, I have concluded to put board down at the following low rates:

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cures them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does cure it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its compotition. We have, and can show, thousands upon thousands of certificates of remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and why should we publish them? Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be persistently taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. There are numer

HOPE!

There's many a step in the path of life
That we walk with hearts that are bleeding,
There is many a life through constant strife
Finds naught in this world worth heeding.

To such sorrowful souls, how little of hope
And the beautiful trust that ne'er faileth
Of promise so bright, which would fill with delight
And freshen each heart, gloom, prevaileth.

There is many a pearl in the walks of life
That we pass in our sinful blindness;
There is many a mortal we could bless,
If our hearts were but filled with kindness.

Oh! better to trust, though the storm beats low;
Far better than sad repinings;
Far better to give, more blessed to bestow,
Our love with kind acts entwining.

Far better to hope though all seems dark,
And no light through the gloom is dawning;
Far better to trust, far better believe
"Joy cometh with the morning."

The Age of Progress.

We publish to-day, the first scheme in the sale of Real and Personal Estate—a Company chartered by the last Legislature, with a capital of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and with power to increase that amount to five hundred thousand dollars. An examination of the charter satisfies us that the Company is pursuing a legitimate business; they are empowered to "dispose of Real and Personal Estate in any mode or form they may deem best," and "all laws, or clauses of laws, coming in conflict with said charter are hereby repealed." This is plain and unmistakable English, and we have no doubt the transactions of the Company will prove beneficial to the property holders of North Carolina. For example: Mr. A. owns a piece of real estate which he wishes to dispose of. He throws it upon the market, and fails to get a bid that would warrant him in making a deed. He then places it in the hands of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, at a fair valuation, and the property is sold by chance—the owner gets his price—the Company a fair and reasonable compensation for selling—and some poor man, for two dollars comes in possession of a homestead, which, under any other circumstance, he would not have owned.

In fact, we do not view the Company as a Lottery—it is what it purports to be, a simple Agency for the sale of property, for the true value, which, otherwise would be sacrificed.

We refer our readers to the advertisement—the splendid real estate offered, and the other rich prizes, amounting in all to THREE THOUSAND AND ONE—and the reader will perceive, by the simple rule of division, that there is one prize to every twenty-four tickets.

The General Agent of the Company has given us a call, and assures us, that the success of the Company is no longer a problem. In thirty-five counties through which he has just traveled, he represents the people as being enthusiastic in favor of it—both as to investing, and the placing of property in the hands of the Company for sale. He represents teat already, before the first grand drawing has taken place, applications to sell, amounting to half a million dollars, are on file in the secretary's office.

We learn from the Raleigh papers, that the explanatory drawing which took place in the city of Raleigh, on Saturday last, passed off to the decided satisfaction of a large audience assembled in Tucker Hall to witness it.—Wil. Post.

One three cent stamp must accompany every order. All tickets will have the seal of the Company and signature of the Secretary.

☞ We refer to any Merchant, Banker or citizen of standing in the city of Raleigh. For farther description and particulars, address

JOHN SKINNER,
SECRETARY.
